Musical Performances

#Care #Collaborate #Grow #Achieve

This week we have been treated to wonderful live musical performances from Finches and Eagles class. Finches have been learning to play the trumpet and Eagles the saxophone.

Our music curriculum is so important to us at Altrincham and forms part of our outstanding offer contributing to our pupils' personal development.

The children are developing invaluable musical skills including understanding musical notation but more importantly we are fostering within them a life-long love of music, whether that is learning to play an instrument, singing or musical appreciation.

Year Six travelled into Manchester on Monday to attend a performance of Re:Sound by the Streetwise Opera company – a workshop to make opera accessible to children. Everyone joined in with great gusto! This performance was featured on North West Tonight on Monday evening.
